NDEA Offers Loans

By LARRY KEATTS
Collegiate Staff Writer

"Installment buying your education" is the way Mrs. Anetta Stappler, director of men's activities, describes the National Defense Education Loan Program.

Mrs. Stappler, who administers this program, stated that the only collateral a student needs to qualify for this loan is his mind and character."

The National Defense Education Act is a federal legislation which empowers the federal government to grant low-interest loans to deserving college students for the purpose of furthering their higher education. Two-year terminal courses and technical programs may qualify for this loan program.

THE LOAN applicant must exhibit "superior scholastic ability" as defined by the federal government. At CBC, this means that the applicant must have a cumulative grade-point average of 2.5. He must also be enrolled in at least 12 hours.

The applicant must submit an application, which includes a detailed projected personal budget for the time covered under the loan. Loans are usually granted for either one quarter or one school year.

The limits of the loan are $1,000 per year per loanee; $5,000 maximum per student for completing his basic four-year undergraduate work, and up to $2,700 per year for post-graduate work.

The terms of the loan are quite liberal, said Mrs. Stappler. The repayment time is spread over 11 years. That is, the year immediately following graduation from college, or such other termination of education, is considered a grace period in which no repayment of principal or interest is demanded. Thereafter, the loan is to be repaid in regular annual installments over 10 years. A rate of 3% annual interest is charged on the unpaid balance. In case of death of the borrower, the loan is automatically cancelled.

In the event of forced military service or illness, the loan is deferred until the applicant is able to work again. Up to a three-year deferment is allowed for military service. Re-enrolling in college also entitles the loanee to a deferment for as long as the student remains in college.

A "FORGIVENESS clause" for teachers is in the loan. If one teaches in either elementary or secondary school, he is excused from paying the yearly installment on his loan for as long as he teaches (up to five years). After the teacher instructs for five years, he then has only to pay back the last five annual installments plus interest.

The funds for this program at CBC are furnished by the federal government (89%) and CBC (11%).

According to Mrs. Stappler, approximately 70 students have already borrowed under this program at CBC. About $50,000 has been lent, and the borrowers are now beginning to repay their loans.

Mrs. Stappler has more information.

Homecoming Honors American Servicemen

The 1965 Homecoming is dedicated to the men serving in America's armed forces.

A committee composed of James Belgrade, Jerry Edwards, and Robert Orr came to this decision last week after giving the publicity given to college students on other campuses who are protesting against American foreign policy in Viet Nam. The committee feels this will show that the students of CBC support our servicemen.

Representatives from all branches of the services will be present at the ceremony to accept the dedication.

THIS CEREMONY will take place during half-time of the Homecoming Game, November

Representative plans call for a 40-minute color drill team with a military band from Larson Force Base, Moses Lake, to present the Air Force; an honor guard and the Fort Lewis band to represent the Army; a group from the Tri-City Navy to represent the Navy; and two Marine sergeants to represent the Marine Corps.

EDUCATION committee chairman Orr said Tuesday that he thinks the event is a good way to show American servicemen that many college students support them.

Orr, a serviceman himself during the Korean War, has first-hand knowledge of the effect of anti-war demonstrations on American fighting men.

"I know that morale can be lowered appreciatively by such demonstrations," he said.

ANOTHER AIM of the dedication is to discredit enemy propaganda, which has exploited much of the protest demonstrations taking place on American college campuses.

"I think that this is a step toward showing that college students are not against our servicemen," he said.

Orr hopes that this gesture will develop into a widespread movement in support of American servicemen in Viet Nam and elsewhere.

CWSC Gives Information

Representatives from Central Washington State College at Ellensburg will be on campus Friday, November 5 to talk with prospective transfer students, according to George Haas, guidance director.

The counselors from Central will discuss programs and transfer problems with students who are considering transferring to CWSC.

According to Haas, those interested should have a copy of their transcript when they meet with the representatives.

Those interested should contact the CBC guidance office to make an appointment. Haas said that appointments are not mandatory, however.

Hear the Series

This year CBC will feature a lecture series. The lectures will cover subjects ranging from politics to fine arts. These lectures are stimulating as well as informative.

Both the Associated Student Body and student clubs sponsor guest speakers. The ASB-sponsored speakers are paid with ASB funds. That is to say, the money you paid for your ASB card pays these speakers. When a club sponsors a guest speaker, all students are invited to hear him.

The ASB has set aside $4200 this year for their lecture series. This series includes speakers on subjects that should be of interest to every CBC student. They will have important information on world problems, art, science, and politics.

We would like to encourage all students to attend this informative series, and also check up on the guest speakers that many of the clubs are sponsoring. One can profit from these talks by becoming both a better-informed individual and a better student.

Voc-Tech Program Announced

A new program in the Vocational - Technical Department was announced Tuesday by Jack Cooney, dean of technical-vocational instruction.

The new program consists of training for specific office occupations and is a follow-up on the Manpower Development Training Act recently passed by Congress. Approximately 50 persons are enrolled in the classes, which are scheduled to start Monday.

The classes will run 30 hours a week, being held daily from 12:30 to 6:30 p.m. The different courses will last 14, 24, or 40 weeks — depending on the occupation being taught. The program will be in operation for one year.

Speech Students Conduct Radio Broadcasts

A radio broadcast by the students in the speech department is on KEPR Radio-TV Thursday nights at 7 p.m.

The students participating are Lee Chabre, Gary Crow, Daryl Foster, Steve Freidman, Russ Gillespie, Jerry Kromm, Russ Bummer, Larey Story, Al Vanik and Gary Yeend.

The students do all the editing, writing, and announcing.

building, sidewalks should go somewhere, the landscaping could be improved.

Another criticism often heard is that the campus could use some sort of windbreak to shelter it from dust storms that blow in out of the desert (the desert is located approximately 15 feet north of the I-building). The parking lot is another sensitive spot. It tends to be the source of a great deal of oppressive dust. Few students deny the long-term benefits to be gained from paving the parking lot.

The majority of students questioned were in favor of these improvements. It is hoped that they will be taken to heart by the powers that be.

Yesterday the bulletin ran the announcement: "Mr. John deYonge of the English Department is currently conducting try-outs for the Journalism Department's one-act play to be presented in the near future. The parts of "Vic Spartan," "Midnight Planter," and "Horatio Hawk" are still open. Any person wanting to try out contact Mr. deYonge before 2:30 p.m. Friday, October 29."

It's true. But we don't want anyone to apply if they lack natural qualifications for the parts to be cast.

The title of the play is "Sandfinger."

THE play centers on the adventures of Vic, Midnight, and Horatio on the walk from the I-building to the Advanced Sandbox area.

Horatio comes into view as the wind subsides and says: "To whence does yonder sidewalk lead? Oh! but methinks it leads to NOWHERE."

Horatio continues his soliloquy but after only a few lines Victor charges onto the scene and tackles a sagebrush which is rolling by.

Black Night for Black Knights

Hawks Clean Wenatchee

by Ron Shade
Collegiate Sports Editor
The undefeated Columbia Basin Hawks made a strong Wenatchee team their sixth victim of the year Saturday night as they downed the Black Knights 27 to 9 in an important conference game.

The Hawks, ranked tenth in the nation last week, behind the passing of quarterback Ray Brum, struck for three second half touchdowns and overcame the Wenatchee halftime lead.

Hawk Eye . . .

by Ron Shade
Collegiate Sports Editor

Talk is beginning to generate around the possibility of a Junior Rose Bowl trip for the Hawks due to the six impressive victories under their belt. Chances of going to the big game are both good and bad.

Take into consideration that the Columbia Basin team, in defeating the Wenatchee Black Knights 27-9 last week, stretched their two-season total to ten straight. Also consider the Hawks boast one of the best records in the nation — 33 wins, two losses, and one tie in the last four years.

The Hawks are out-scoring, out-rushing, and out-passing every opponent inside or outside the conference. The "Gang Busters" are yielding under 150 yards per game, and only 30 points have been scored on the Hawks in the six games.

CONSIDER the Hawks have beaten a California team, Shasta 49 to 7. A California team plays host to what the JC Grid Wire Committee considers the best team in the nation outside of the Calif. conference. The Hawks were rated tenth last week, but the win over Wenatchee will surely have moved them up.

Now, the odds against CBC are just as numerous. First, true, the Hawks have ten straight wins over a two-year span, but the decision is based on the present season — not past records.

As of now, the Henderson,

Texas team has the inside chance for the bid. Of course, they could lose before the season ends. The Hawks still have three tough games also.

CBC HAS ALREADY been to the Junior Rose Bowl once before. The Hawks had a bad day and lost to the Santa Ana team 20 to 0 in 1962.

No JC team has the bid yet, so it looks like the Hawks must wait for their invitation — of course, in the meantime, keep winning.

A few shorts about last week's game:

The 66-yard touchdown pass from Ray Brum to Gartha Morgan was one-yard short of tying the TD scored when last year's QB Tony Lister passed to Wendell Jones in the Shoreline game.

CBC was held to 249 yards total offense by Wenatchee. This was well under their season average of 466. The 183 yards rushing was 200 yards under their average per game.

408 W. Lewis — Pasco

Jousters

Brum had to carry most of the offensive load as the Black Knights bottled up the Hawks' backfield stars Jerry Bailey, Gartha Morgan, and Dick Brown. The trio, all having 100-plus yard games to their credit, were held to 23, 47, and 67 yards respectively.

THE HAWK FRESHMEN set two new single-season passing records while throwing two touchdown passes and directing two other TD's. Brum completed four of ten passes for 131 yards, bringing his six-game total to 715 yards — 37 more yards than the season total set by George Stephens in 1959. He also brought his touchdown passes to 11, which is one more than the record held by last year's QB, Tony Lister.

CBC scored the go-ahead touchdown the second time they got the ball after intermission on a 65 yard pass play from Brum to halfback Gartha Morgan. The touchdown put the Hawks ahead 13 to 9 with 6:22 gone in the third period.

Wenatchee kept the CBC offense deep in their own territory most of the first half. The Hawks were forced to punt nine times during the game — the most amount of punting CBC has done in any game.

THE KNIGHTS grabbed the first scoring chance on a bad pass from center to punter Kirk Danekas deep in Hawk territory. The ball sailed over Danekas' head, and before he could get the ball, Wenatchee's Ken Salesky recovered it at CBC's three-yard line.

Fullback Bob Bates drove over on his second try to put the Knights out in front with 2:15 left in the first period. Elbert Kelly's PAT was wide.

The Hawks moved 65 yards in six plays following the kick-off to score their first touchdown. After Morgan provided an important first down, Brum tossed to Bailey for 45 yards and a touchdown with only seconds left in the period. Brum's point after made it 7 to 6.

A FUMBLE by Bailey gave Wenatchee field position for a field goal. Kelly kicked the three pointed to put Wenatchee ahead 9 to 7 at halftime.

With the Hawks leading 13 to 9 after Morgan's touchdown reception, CBC got possession of the ball again when Howard Roth intercepted a Wenatchee pass. The Hawks drove 68 yards in 12 plays with Brum and fullback Brown leading the way. Brown took the ball over from the four with only 33 seconds gone in the final quarter.

CBC scored again after taking over the ball on the Knights 29. Charles Hayes capped the six-play drive by scoring on a 7-yard sprint. Brum kicked the PAT and the Hawks led 27 to 9 with only 1:37 left in the game.

The Everett Trojans, after winning 14-13 over the Grays Harbor Chokers, will be trying to snap Columbia Basin College's four-game winning streak when the two teams clash here Saturday.

The Trojans turned two second-half touchdowns into the margin of victory over the Chokers. The win gave Everett a square conference record at 2-2, and an overall season record of 2 wins and 4 losses. The Trojans have been the victims of two tough California teams.

'Asia Aflame' Presented Tuesday

By PETRA COERS

The film "Asia Aflame" brought a new insight on the current problems in south-east Asia. Mr. Kenneth Armstrong gave his interesting and thought provoking lecture to an audience of townspeople as well as CBC students. The film featured a tour of the three small countries of Cambodia, Laos, and South Vietnam.

Armstrong has just returned from a three-year trip to these small countries. There he studied the change in government relations and the poor living conditions. He explained that many countries in the world were sending aid to these backward civilizations. These people need roads, hospitals, factories, and better housing.

Armstrong stated that most of the people appreciate the help they are getting. He also stated that in recent years Cambodia has severed complete diplomatic relations with the United States. The most surprising statement he made was the comments he received from the American soldiers in South Vietnam. These men could not understand why the U. S. citizens were demonstrating against U. S. participation in the Viet-Cong war. They said before coming to Vietnam they were against going, but now that they were there they realized the importance of their position.

Armstrong's speech was a part of the CBC lecture series for the 1965-66 season.

Bus Plans Okayed by School Board

Last week the Pasco School Board gave sanction to the Associated Student Body Council's proposal to buy a transit type bus.

The ASB council when informed of the PSB's decision, contacted Dwight Underwood to inspect some buses in Portland, Oregon and San Francisco, California and submit recommendations on them to the Council.

Underwood telephoned Wednesday from San Francisco and recommended that the ASB council select a 1946 bus.

William Bruer said that the bus Underwood recommended has a new motor and is in good overall condition.

Bruer informed the ASB council that the school will get a ten percent discount on the bus; the bus will cost $3600 instead of the $4000 figure originally quoted.

Benton Features Free Films

The Student Programs Committee of Columbia Basin College, in cooperation with the Benton Theatre, is presenting a series of eight outstanding international feature films.

The films, which admit CBC students free with their ASB cards, will be shown once at 8:00 p.m. on the scheduled dates.

High school students will be admitted for 60 cents upon presentation of student body cards. The general public will be charged $1 admittance.

Homecoming Dance Decoration Plans Chosen

Decoration plans for the homecoming dance were announced Monday, at the Associated Student Body Council meeting.

John Fredericks, homecoming dance chairman, presented plans for a scene of the San Francisco Bay by moonlight.

Fredricks said a pagoda-type entrance to the dance floor will give the illusion of Chinatown and set the scene for the San Francisco motif of the dance.

Three backdrops, painted dark blue, covered with twinkling lights will represent sky and stars.

A PLANK with ropes tied to it will represent the Golden Gate Bridge. Containers with lights inside them will serve as the skyline of San Francisco and a light shining on a surface will represent the moonlight on the bay.

The walls around the dance floor will be decorated with sketches of San Francisco and drawings of street corner

ASIS Offers Students Foreign Jobs

Every student in America can get a summer job in Europe and a travel grant by applying directly to the European headquarters of the American Student Information Service in Luxembourg. Jobs are much the same as student summer work in the United States with employers offering work periods ranging from three weeks to permanent employment.

Lifeguarding, office work, resort-hotel jobs, factory, construction, camp counseling farm work are only a few categories to be found among 20,000 jobs ASIS has on file.

An interesting summer time not found in America is tutoring. Numerous well-educated European families are in American college students spend the summer with them and teach their children English.

Wages range to $400 a month and in most cases neither previous experience nor knowledge of a foreign language is required. ASIS will place American students in summer jobs in Europe this summer more than ever before.

Students interested in working in Europe next summer should write directly to Dept. II, 22 Ave. de la Liberté, Luxembourg City, Grand Duché de Luxembourg, enclosing $2.00. The ASIS 36-page booklet contains all jobs, wages, working conditions, etc., job travel grant applications, to cover the cost of handling and overseas air mail postage.

Ricks Elected President

Ellis Ricks is the new freshman president as a result of the run-off election held two weeks ago in which he defeated Steve Watson.

The first election provided no majority vote, thus necessitating the run-off.
